How Soon Will Brooklyn Pass Manhattan In Population?

Had 700,000 Less in 1898-Only 150,000 Less Now-Gaining Every Day

Holds Fifth of Whole State's Population Owns Tenth of State's Automobiles Is America's Third Largest City Could Populate Two Connecticuts Has 130 New Babies Every Twenty-Four Hours

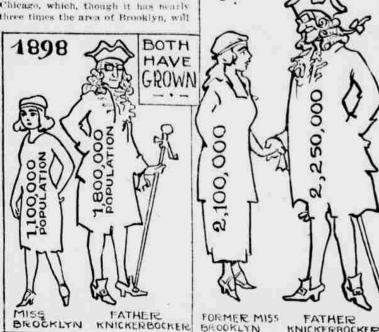

By Major Joseph Caccavajo, C. E., D. Sc.

Constight, 1021, by the Piess Publishing Co. (The New York Evening World.)
NE in every five persons in the State of New York resides in the

During eight hours of every working day in the year a building ta completed in Brooklyn ready for becapancy every ten minutes. There is an automobile for every two families in the borough, and new dables arrived at the rate of over 130 such twenty-four hours during each

To-day Brooklyn has a population almost if not quite equal to that of Manhattan. It has more families, more homes, more buildings, more schools, more school children, more churches and many more miles of streets and public improvements than Manhattan.

Outside of New York City Itself, but one city in the United States exceeds Brooklyn in population, and that is Chicago, which, though it has nearly baye fewer residents than the Bor- byn has 203,948 pupils registered in its ough of Homes and Churches.

It is now over twenty-three years since Miss Brooklyn was married to Manhattan Father Knickerbocker and though many still refer to her by her maiden name, she is helping and has helped longer the undeveloped girl of 1893, but greater advantage over Manhattan a big, strong, self-reliant woman, who, respect to the number of school a big, strong, self-reliant woman, who, while justly proud of her family conbections, is fully aware of the fact that she has not as yet attained her halfan parochial schools. full growth. She is fully able and does show Father Knickerbecker and fall denominations. The churches of Brooklyn have been famous for gen-Master Bronx, his sen by, a previous continues and its preachers, both past union, as well as Sister Queens and and present, are ranked with the reli-little Brother Richmond, many things.

About properly conducting family afCatholics lead with 129, Lutnerans

Brooklyn and its real importance to sect.

the present and future welfare and greatness of the City of New York.

While Manhaman is actually losing in residential population, hundreds of new residents, including babies, are moving into Brooklyn every day in presidential population. Brooklyn every day in presidential population of the contribution of the various Brooklyn churches and Jewish number (25,000 members. The Jewish synamous Brooklyn every day in Brooklyn is constitution of the churches and presidential population. the year, In a very few years Brook- property in Brooklyn is over $52,lyn, which even now equals it not asready outvotes Manhattan, will be in absolute political control of the family of those at Coney Island, Brighton of boroughs which make up the City Beach, Manhattan Beach and its

To-day, if Brooklyn be considered alone, it would be the third largest city in the United States. which alone, outside of Chicago, which anks it.

The population is equal to two-thirds that of the entire State of New Jersey and twice that of Connecticut.

Connecticut.

Only seventeen or eighteen of the forty-eight States have a greater population than the Borough of Brocklyn, and the combined population of Syracuse. Richmond, New Haven, Memphis. San Antonio, Dallas, Dayton, Bridgeport, Housten, Hartford, Schand Rapids, Pater-Grand Rapids, Pater son and Youngstown, fourteen of the leading fifty cities of the country, is not equal to that of Brooklyn, to-day has a population and assessed valuation of real estate equals to the combined population and assessed valuation of Detroit, St.

lle schools.

Brooklyn has a total area of hearly eighty square miles, more than deventy miles of which is hand area exclusive of marsh and meadow land.

Base nearly 1.500 miles of strengs.

This is demonstrated conclusively in twenty-five years bence?

FORMER MISS BROOKLYN KNICKERBOCKER

Brooklyn has nearly 600 churches

Brooklyn has nearly 400 theatres employing nearly 170,000 persons. Besoklyn is cultimized by only two crises. Chemico and Philadelphia, as an industrial city. With $515,302,755 given as the value of its manufactured products. Brooklyn is $115,000,000 anead of Detruit and over $230,000,000 about of Boston.

about of Roston.

Hrooklynites registered 42,226 passesser automoleses and 13,570 commonant vehicles with the Secretary of State last year, about 10 per cent, of all the automobiles in the State of New York.

New York. There are close to 100,000 depositors in the savings institutions of Brooklyn and the average amount of each ac-The 120 new babies which arrive in clusive of marsh and incades land the has nearly 1.500 miles of streets. 2015 m'es of direct waterfront entage to 250.6 miles of waterfront if measured around picts and since line. More than 104 miles of the water front of Brooklyn is developed.

The twenty-three years of union be-tween Pather Kniekerbecker and Miss and assessed valuation of Defroit, St.

Louis and St. Paul, cities with a combined area nearly three times that of Brooklyn. Though the paper target and bound the two that of Brooklyn. Brooklyn about to that of Brooklyn, Brooklyn has 76,000 more children in its public schools.

The United States census for 1929 passengers an hour To-day the tungare Manhattan 265.747 more resistant below and more tunnels are dents than Brooklyn, but Manhattan, projected. Brooklyn has grown more with its much larger alien population, has fewer families than Brooklyn brooklyn has grown more than 100 per cent. In twenty-five years, Woat will the population be This is demonstrated conclusively in twenty-five years bence?

Can You Beat It!

By Maurice Ketten

Flapper Only Flapping In Grandma's Own Footsteps!

Just a New Set of Unconventionalities in a Modern Setting, Author Points Out.

Grandma Was Handicapped by Dobbin, Who Couldn't Travel as Far or as Long as an Automobile But Cards, Artificial Aids to Beauty and Eccentricities of Dress Were Outlet for Youthful Daring Then as Now.

> By Marguerite Mooers Marshall. Q. Why does the fapper flap! A. Because her grandma did!

ST so simple and amusing is the latest answer to the riddle over which anxious parents, preachers and social philosophers are now puzzling their brains; the problem of the young rebels of to-day who are knocking one "prop" out of propriety. For a year or more they have been breaking their way into literature; sometimes writing it, more often serving as its herrible examples. But nowhere have they been analyzed with a clearer sense of proportion or a more humorous optimism than in "These Young Rebels," Frances R. Sterrett's new novel. She it is who cheers up all the parents and guardians of the younger generation by pointing out that they themselves, in their own young days, used to be just as naughty-and now look at 'em!

"I don't worry a bit about our young people," one wise old lady in "These the Mr. Grundy of the book, utterly people," one wise old lady in "These Young Rebels" sums up its comforting philosophy. "Perhaps they are a little unconventional, according to our standards, but I can remember when I nearly drove my mother crazy by learning how to waltz. I can remember when round danc's were considered a scandal. My parents thought a girl who permitted a man to put his arm around her in a ballroom was a shameless hussy. The world has to move. It can't stand still! I don't pretend to understand all that goes on now, but I know that it will work out our fathers told us to stop it."

lieved that Henderson would vote the straight ticket upon his arrival. Henderson did not have sufficient cash on hand to make the trip, but he did want to vote and to see the home folks. However, he did not feel that he should vote the straight

What would you have done?

1. Accepted the money and voted syou pleased?

2. Returned the money?

3. Accepted the money and voted

The Jarr Family

come to priceless things are we I refer to friends. There are some who think nothing of losing friends and make no effort to keep them when once won. To win friends, be of service

Going Down!

same manner, why should we be life is the fear of losing something. We fret when we lose money, or think we are going to lose it. We make every effort to keep it safely, and yet when we

One of the seeming terrors of afraid of losing something?

EAR Reader As we comanything and go out in the to those whom you meet, keep friends, be of more se keep friends, be of more service, remembering that SERVICE is the highest form of human en-deavor and it always brings its own reward if we are patient. Yours truly, ALFALFA SMITH

How to Reduce Your Weight

Diet Suggestions by Doris Doscher

Mrs. Jarr went on.

ELL, how did you find everything down at the office?" risked Mrs. Jarr. The he should be ashamed office?" risked Mrs. Jarr. Then he should be ashamed of away longer? Was toat man Jenkins at your desk? You know I always told you he wanted your job, and he'd an anything to get you discharged so there."

"I guess the job Jenkins has got suits him," Mr. Jerr replied. "He wasn't at my desk, anyway."

"I'm sure I do not know and am not interested enough to inquire."

"I'm sure I do not know and am not interested enough to inquire."

"I'm sure I do not know and am not interested enough to inquire."

"I'm sure I do not know and am not interested enough to inquire."

"I'm sure I do not know and am not interested enough to inquire."

"I'm sure I do not know and am not interested enough to inquire."

"I'm sure I do not know and am not interested enough to inquire."

"I'm sure I do not know and am not interested enough to inquire."

"I'm sure I do not know and am not interested enough to inquire."

"I'm sure I do not know and am not interested enough to inquire."

"I'm sure I do not know and am not interested enough to inquire."

"I'm sure I do not know and am not interested enough to inquire."

"I'm sure I do not know and am not interested enough to inquire."

"I'm sure I do not know and am not interested enough to inquire."

"I'm sure I do not know and am not interested enough to inquire."

"I'm sure I do not know and am not interested enough to inquire."

"I'm sure I do not know and am not interested enough to inquire."

"I'm sure I do not know and am not interested enough to inquire."

"I'm sure I do not know and am not interested enough to inquire."

"I'm sure I do not know and am not interested enough to inquire."

"I'm sure I do not know and am not interested enough to inquire."

"I'm sure I do not know and am not interested enough to inquire."

"I'm sure I do not know and am not interested enough to inquire."

"I'm sure I do not know and am not interested enough to inquire."

"I'm sure I do not know and am not inte check sooner." Sighed Mrs. Jarr. "I "Oh, dear!" sighed Mrs. Jarr. "I supknew you'd biame me for it. I sup-pose you won't get a raise of salary simply because business is bad and they gave you a vacation. Look at Mr. Stryver—he has made a fortune as a financier. Why don't we buy storks, as he is always advising you?"

"That isn't the way to make money. buying stocks," said Mr. Jarr.

buying stocks," said Mr. Jarr. "The only way is to print them and sell them. like Stryver does. But do you want me to go into the Street or on the Curb?"

"I don't see how you could make money in the street or on the curb," replied Mrs. Jarr. "I'm sure things are had enough as they are without your becoming a peddler and selling shoestrings. And I never saw one of those shoestring sellers have a customer. I know I get all my shoe mirtigs at the five and ten cent story where one can get a dozen pairs for them. Still my shoe where one can get a dozen pairs for the street of the still my shoe where one can get a dozen pairs for the still my shoe where one can get a dozen pairs for the still my shoe where one can get a dozen pairs for the still my shoe where one can get a dozen pairs for the still my shoe where one can get a dozen pairs for the still my shoe where one can get a dozen pairs for the still my shoe where one can get a dozen pairs for the still my shoe where one can get a dozen pairs for the still my shoe where one can get a dozen pairs for the still my shoe where one can get a dozen pairs for the still my shoe where one can get a dozen pairs for the still my shoe where one can get a dozen pairs for the still my shoe where one can get a my shoe where one can get a dozen pairs for the still my shoe where one can get a dozen pairs for the still my shoe where one can get a dozen pairs for the still my shoe where one can get a dozen pair story the still my shoe where one can get a dozen pair story the still my shoe where one can get a dozen pair story the story that the principal river doses the pri where one can get a dozen pairs for a dime. Still, most of them wear a gredient used in the manufacture of sign saying 'I Am Blind,' and a lot pricks?

pretend to understand all that goes on now, but I know that it will work out all right. Our own generation seems to be the only one we can really understand. We can only have pity for the one that went before us and hope for the one that comes after us. So don't you worry It won't do a bit of good."

But Uncle Arthur Galusha—who is

What Would You Have Done?

By Richard S. Uhrbrock.

By Richard S. Uhrbrock.

OHN HENDERSON was away from home on Electicn Day and the ward boss sent him money with which to return. The boss believed that Henderson would vote Bigoods. The content of the color over our cheeks until our fathers told us to stop it."

"And did you?"

"Of course we didn't," cheerfully admits Aunt Susanne. "We just to be did you?

"After never liked my new clothes; lie used to say that my bustle was vulgar and indecent."

Afternoon bridge is Uncle Albert's next goal-getter.

"She plays cards for money," he laments concerning Niece Kitty. "She told me herself she won $7.50 at bridge yesterday afternoon. I don't approve of gambling for young girls. It is bad enough for old men. And when I dared to speak to Kitty, she just laughed and assked me if I had forgotten the old days when I played cache for citt glass dishes and ash receivers. She asked me what the difference was."

Says unsympathetic Aunt Susanne. "It sounds as if there wasn't any."

Uncle Albert boils over once more. "You know it wasn't the same, Sue!" he scolds. "It never was the same!

"You know it wasn't the same, Sue!"
he scolds. "It never was the same!
And tearing around the country at all hours of the day and night in high-powered cars as they do. Il don't approve of it! I'm about read; to think Sue, that the automobile to think, Sue, that the automobilis the curse of the country. Drivin forty miles to a dance and bac again."

again!"
"The only reason we didn't drive forty miles," blandly insinuates non-shockable Aunt Susanne, "was because our old Dobbin wouldn't take us. You can't have forgotten, Albert, that we used to drive to Mifflin to parties?" And that was twelve miles!"

Poor Uncle Albert Grundy is counpoor Uncle Amert Grundy is countered at every turn of his criticism of "these young rebels." He inveighs against an after the ball breakfast at a roadhouse—and Aunt Susanne remarks sweetly that it reminds her so much of the farmhouse where Uncle and she and their roads used to go for overter stews.

I hope no one has been calling us up. Did you stop at the telephone company's office and pay the bill? No. I can see you didn't, and we'll be disgraced!"

I sent them a check," remarked Mr. Jarr. "And if you had told me the bill hadn't been paid while we were away I would have sent the check sooner."

eternal—only the methods of warfare change. Also, that the only way for the oldeters to get even with the youngsers is to leave the job to the youngsers' grandchildren! They'll had out the shocks when their time comes!

"These Young Rebels" is published by D. Appleton & Co.

WHAT Do You? Know

QUESTIONS.

Courtship and Marriage

and although she appears at times to like me when she is away she seldom writes and of course this worries me a great deal. Recently she went away for two weeks and she went away for two weeks and never wrote me a line, although she permits me to wear her ring. Upon her return I went to see her and when I spoke of her not writ-ing she only laughed. When I ing she only laughed. When I called her cousin, who is also young, was the only one in the room. Was it quite proper for her family not to be there?

"C. H. F."

Do not worry about this girl not writing. Many young people have an aversion to writing anything more than a postal or a few words of greet-without her famly. The day of the chaperon is over and the family are

Cortainly it was perfectly prope

"D EAR MISS VINCENT: I am eighteen years old. and I promised to write to a young man whom I recently met while in the country. Upon arriving at home and telling my parents they forbade me doing this on account of his being married. Should I write this young man, saying I cannot correspond with him, or shall I let the matter rest as it is? He has not got my address, so he cannot write to me. Please advise. "GERRY." Abide by your patents' wish. The man was most indiscret in wishing you to write when he is a married man. Do not even drop him a line to tell him of your parents' wishes but simply tenore him.

"Dear Miss Vincent: I am a high school girl, perhaps too young to think seriously of boystbut I know a boy about my own age whom I like very much. I think that he considers me a friend, for he has taken me out and has been very high to and has been very kind to me.
Every year when school closes we do not see each other the whole summer. By what means would you advise me to meet him, or shouldn't I see him at all?
PUZZLED."

igh school he will not have the sa attitude as a young man in business You cannot expect him to call or to even write. Better not seek him ou out consider him just a good school age of twenty I met a man eight years older than myself. Later I met a second man four years younger who wanted to marry me, but I told him I wanted to wait for the first young man whom I loved. Then I met a third young man whom I rather liked. Since then the first and third young then the first and third young mer have died and the young man who is four years younger still wants to marry me. I am now twenty eight, so do you think we could he happy when he is but twenty

This all depends upon whether yo for disposition and are naturally young and he is serious and has a well-balanced mind you might fin great happiness together, "Dear Miss Vincent: h have been interested in a very refined girl for a long time. She is quite a few years younger than I am for me to give results.

duction this complicates the quer-NOT a day tion. So each one of you will have to passes but study your own needs and decide for I receive yourself and select which one of the many letters tood suggestions would best fit your asking for more particular need. If your occupation explicit direct is a strenuous one, be sure to supply tions in the mat-ter of diel and so but this need not be of a fattening I am going for nature. I warm you against taking give you a few and drugs to more rapidly reduce fun d a m e n tal your weight. An intelligent underrules regarding standing of food values will show your reducing you that nature is sufficient. The dur. It would natural method of excreme combined DORIS DOSCHER he very simple with diet will bring about the best you a jest of things you can cat and a lot of things you can cat and a lot of things you can cat and and only the reduction of weight in more, but the object of the column has been to rry to guide you so that has been to rry to guide you so that has been to rry to guide you so that has been to rry to guide you so that has been to rry to guide you so that has been to rry to guide you and one has been to rry to guide you and one has been to rry to guide you and one has been to rry to guide you and one has been to rry to guide you and one has been to rry to guide you and one has been to rry to guide you and one has been to rry to guide you and one has been to rry to guide you and one has been to rry to guide you and one has been to rry to guide you and one has been to rry to guide you and one has been to rry to guide you and one has been to rry to guide you and one has been to rry to guide you and one has been to rry to guide you and one has been to rry to guide you and one has been to rry to guide you and one has been to rry to guide you and one has been to rry to guide you got fire him to foods troited the manufacture of people give them pennies, for what for each all kinds of salads excepting you are cat and the sucception of salads excepting you want tax when you but any or those made of torbidden from the foods troited. For many to guide the world first when the manufacture of the solution of the first way or and one will fin your those made of torbidden foods. Try to avoid freed, biscuits, crackers, in the world for the children?"

If any peaking of Wail Street and the following suggests for the children?"

If any peaking of Wail Street and the form what I hear the market than the market than the four of wheat, or in the four of the first metal bridges!

Well, I am glad of it." Mrs. Jarr when you were used to the four of green vegatings. You may see in the four of green vegating the four of green vegating to t dish of prunes.

One slice of Zwieback.
One cup black coffee.
One soft boiled egg. LUNCHEON. A lettuce salad with chipped

REDUCING DIET

BREAKFAST. One teaspoonful of bran

One glass of buttermilk. Two slices of gluten bread. DINNER. One lean broiled chop. Sliced tomatoes.
One small baked potato. A portion of string beans or car